THE NEBRASKA BILL PASSED.

By reference to the news in this day's paper, it will be seen that the Nebraska bill has passed the Senate in the same shape in which it had formerly eral and Reporter's election. passed the House, and that it is now the law of the

We have, by the Washington papers, full reports of the action of the House on the passage of the bill in that body. The southern members proved themselves greatly the overmatch of their northern opponents in parliamentary tactics. By an old parliamentary rule, when an enacting clause of a bill is smended in committee of the Whole, no other amendment can be offered to the bill, which must then be reported to the House. Accordingly, Mr. STEPHENS, of Georgia, offered to amend the enacting clause, which was carried, and then there was nothing left to do but to report the bill to the House. The House put the head on again, and then the tail, which is Mr. RICHARDSON'S substitute, which, in turn, is nothing else but Judge Dopotas' bill without the Clayton amendment, and then passed the bill. In the Senate, the bill was easily passed as it came from the House. The great principle of Congressional non-intervention with slavery is thus established; and the vocation of the abolitionists, as well as the hope of their southern allies, are thus

There are several interesting facts connected with this vote which will afford us subjects for comment hereafter. We now call attention to the fact that 44 northern democrats voted for the bill, and only 43 against it. Every northern whig voted against it. Of the southern democrats, 55 voted for the bill, and 1 against it. Of the southern whigs, 14 voted for the bill, and 7 against it. Of the democrats in Congress, 99 voted for the bill, and 45 against it. Of the whigs in Congress, 14 only vo-

FROM HAVANA-IMPORTANT AND INTERESTING. Our opportunities for obtaining reliable information from Cuba are better than those of most of our contemporaries of the American press, having personal friends among those having business relations with parties on the island, who, while they scrupuously refrain from forfeiting any obligation of their political position of mere spectators of passing events, are in every way capable of forming cool and accurate opinions of what may be transpiring around them. We have more than once already spread before the readers of the Star information reaching us from such sources. Again we have been favored by our friend in New York with a sight of mportant Havana letters, to the 13th inst., which say that "it is difficult to describe the apprehension prevailing through the city, and, I understand, throughout all the interior towns. The various incidents related of the growing insolence of the negroes is startling. The Marquis goes by the name 'Papa Juan, the patron of Liberty and Equality.'— One sees them in knots all over the city, discussing the decrees. The alarm and excitement is as great in the interior as in the city. The cry will soon be revolution, and to arms; and, rest assured, will be a bloody and horrid warfare. A high officer of the government has just told me that he knows of a oming degree which will cause bitter tears to

From another writer to the same commercial source in New York, we learn that "the registration to the end of setting free all negroes arriving since 1820, is being pushed with unexampled vigor throughout the whole island. England, while pretending to oppose the slave trade, has withdrawn all her ships from the African coast, and openly per-mits extradition as apprentices, to Africanize Cuba." According to the last information we can obtain, we shall by no means be surprised if it turns out that the government decrees all the negroes of the island virtually free, after a short term of years, except about 150,000. The signs of the times point to this result of their present labors and plots -This, we presume to be the "coming decree" which is to "cause bitters tears to flow," referred to above. And well it may; the free citizens thus to be made, eing nine-tenths of them African born negroes, almost as barbarous, and quite as incapable of successful self government, as on the days on which they were landed from the slave ships.

It is a curious and interesting problem with us to know how far the government of the United States will permit Spain to go with the work of coast-a second St. Domingo. We have no idea in the present condition of popular and Congressional sentiment that three months will elapse before the Executive branch of the Government of the United States, will bring the progress of this English policy in the island to a dead halt, at all risks and any hazard, self-preservation on our part being the first great law of nations, as well as of nature:

Senate.-The Senate continued in session till a quarter past 10 o'clock this, Friday, morning. After a most exciting debate the Senate concurred in the House amendment, excluding the Clayton amendment, passed the Nebraska bill, and then adjourned until Monday.

He replied at length to the intimation that this bill would be resented, and henceforth a stern opposition to all laws upon the subject of slavery would be universal to the North.

Mr. Toucey said he had expressed his views on a former occasion, and that he now fully concurred in all he had expressed. On the 10th of April, about 6 A. M., nine stemmers of the enemy, one carrying 54 guns, and eight carrying for the most part 32, having passed be-yond the reach of the first or right hand battery, attacked in turn, the five others, sending at the same time shells into the town, and then the whole stationed themselves in front of the mole of the

The enemy taking advantage of the heavy calibre of his guns, and particularly of his paixhans, of 68 and 96, kept for the most part out of range. For this reason the fourth and fifth batteries, being distant, took little part in the contest, although they were within the range of the enemy's guns, but the sixth, or left battery, placed on the extremity of the pratique port, fought at first with four guns and afterwards with two-one of its gnns being dismounted, and the enemy being out of the range of the other. This battery, commanded by Ensign Stchegolew, of the reserve battery of the 14th brigade of artillery, maintained a contest of six hours against the enemy's steamers, which towards the conclusion of the battle were seven in number. In addition to these, they had a screw steamer of the line, carrying 24 guns. The buttery at length ceased firing, and Ensign Stchegolew only drew off his men when the vessels which were in the practique port behind the batteries, as well as the fortifications, caught fire. The coolness and selfdenial of Ensign Stehegolew spread themselves amongst his artillerymen, and at the end of the battle three of the enemy's steamers were obliged to be taken in tow. In virtue of the powers which have devolved upon me, I have honored those who particularly distinguished themselves in the above mentioned battle with the order of "Military Knights." When the battle was finished, I reported to his Highness the Field Marshal the brilliant exploit of Ensign Stchegolew. The hostile steamers, being built of iron and drawing very little water, were enabled, in spite of opposition, to round the mole and approach the bank—one of them going towards the suburb of Perecipe, accompanied by boats, from which they threw congreve rockets, which burned the vessels in the pratique port and the houses in the suburb. They then attempted to effect a landing, but were repulsed by the grape shot of four guns from battery No. 3, garrioned by the 14th brigade of artillery, and covered by six companies of the reserved battalion of Tomsk and Colyivansk (chasseur regiments) placed in ambush. Driven back to their vessels and exposed to a cannonade during their retreat, they suffered a sensible loss, whilst we had only a few men killed and wounded, and two gun carriages destroyed. During this time the enemy's line-of-battle ships left their line and drew near the country house of were received, however by the fire of the batteries 1, 2, 3, and after exchanging a few shots retreated to their line. This manœuvre they executed several times. The relation of the brilliant manner in which the officers and troops conducted themselves in the best proof which I can give them of my lively gratitude.

May we always then, aided by divine grace, con-tinue to serve God, our Emperor, and our country as conscientiously as we have done to-day. Signed by the Aid-de-Camp of General Baron Osten-Sacken.

THE FRENCH ACCOUNT OF THE BOMBARDMENT. Nothing is spoken of here (Paris, Saturday evening, May 6.) but the successful issue of the attack on Odessa, and the gratification felt at the news is enchanced by the uncertainty which prevailed on the subject for some days previously. A telegraphic despatch received in Paris to-day gives intelligence from Constantinople to the 25th uit, and fully confirms the accounts already received. This despatch adds that the combined squadron had sailed for Sebastopol, with the intention, it was supposed, of merely blockading the place. The following is the account given by the Monitour of the proceeding at Odessa

VILLE DE PARIS, ODESSA ROADS, April 25. On the morning of the 22d, eight steam-frigates -three French and five English-proceeded to the mperial port of Odessa, and at half-past six four of them had opened their fire on the land batteries. The two moles as well as the intermediate batteries warmly returned it. At ten o'clock four other frigates joined, and then the action became general. It continued until five o'clock in the evening when Admiral Dundas made signal to the frigates to join the squadron. The fire had gained the battery of the imperial mole; the powder magazine had blown up, fifteen vessels, with the exception of two or three, were either sunk or on fire. The naval establishmento were also on fire, or very much injured from the shells. The town and the commercial port, where a number of vessels of all nations were moored, were respected. Several of these vessels took advantage of the confusion and got out and among them the only two French vessels that were there. THE WAR PREPARATIONS OF THE ALLIED POWERS. The Paris Moniteur contains the following important announcement in reference to the war, and the intention of the two Powers to undertake still more extensive operations against Russia.

The second consisting of 50,000 men, will form near Marsailles -The English government, on its side, are preparing troops, and wfleet capable of transporting, in case of necessity, the forces which they may judge necessary either in the Baltic or in the Black Sea. The Paris correspondent of the London Times

It is not difficult to guess for what object the camp of 100,000 men is formed, and there is little doubt that the opinion of superior officers of the army with reference to an expedition to the Baltic is well founded. It is said that both Revel and Helsefors will be occupied, and the shutting up of the Gulf of Finland completed. The object of the establishment of the camp in the south is to have reinforcements at hand for the army of the East, and very probably to make a descent on the Crimea while the combined fleets attack Sebestopol. The government naturally keep their plan of operations enveloped in secrecy, but any one who is aware of the determination of both England and France to act with utmost vigor, and thereby shorten as much in error in his supposition as to the ultimate destination of these forces. The establishment of the camp between Mon-treuil and St. Omer is thought to be quite as much as possible the period of the war, will not be much directed towards Prussia as towards the Baltic or the Gulf of Finland, and, in case Prussia showed symptoms of foul play, it is not imposssible that that army, joined by a formidable Beigian country gent, would find its way to the banks of the Rhine. THE ENGLISH WAR BUDGET. In the House of Commons on the 8th inst, the English Chancellor of the Exchequer brought in his war budget. He proposes to meet the expenditure of the war by increased taxation and to avoid having recourse to a loan. The following from a daily London paper gives a succinct account the month of Angust.

Nonday. The room being large and well furnished, he will be able to accommodate a few more pupils. He teaches any this sharing the considerable experience in teaching, he hopes to be able to accommodate a few more pupils. He teaches any this sharing the satisfaction. He is thankful for past patronage and respectfully solicits a continuance of it, and also the patronage of others. He will give a vacation during the month of Angust.

If the proposed measures of finance. intest the cost of 'preparations for war,' cur read-ers are aware that the income tax for the first balf year had been already doubled. Mr. Gladstons now proposes to continue the increased income tax to the end of the war; to augment the duty on spirits, is per gallon in Scotland, and 8d per gallon in Ire-land; to defer the reduction of duty on sogar, which would otherwise come into operation in July next; and to increase the malt tax from 2s ament of Cherson on the right bank of the Bug. 9d to 4s. The estimated increase of revenue may be briefly shown as follows: Income tax, doubled for the second half year, - £3,150,000 Scotch and Irish spirits, - - £50,000 - 459,000 deckers, and nine steamers, carrying altogether 1,-800,000 Sugar, - - - -2,450,000 Total - - £6,860,000 -this being the amount which the Chancellor of the Exchequer states to be now required. The inand quarantine ports. I gave no answer to this crease in taxation, therefore, already proposed for the present year will, with the former grant, amount to £10,157,000. Whether the mode of raising so large an amount of revenue be the best that can be devised, it is, perhaps, difficult to say, but we think that it is as free from the charge of obstruction to the trade and industry of the country as any plan which taxation to the same extent may be inflicted on the people. We trust that, through our increased and creasing trade, as shown by the official returns, of which we gave the substance on Saturday last, the additional demands thus necessarily made upon us will not be very severely felt.

IMPORTANT FROM PERSIA. Under the title of "Rupture between Persia and Russia," the Journal de Constantinople publishes the following on the incident mentioned in the dispatches from Constantinople:

According to the letters from Teheran, written by persons in a position to be well-informed, the Russian ambassador extraordinary, Count Kanicoff, who had been sent to Persia to extort fresh concessions from the Shah, and force him to declare himself against the Sublime Porte, and who, from unfavorable circumstances, thought it prudent to stop at Tiflis, is said to have sent from that place to M. Dolgorouki, Russian minister at the court of Persia, an order to call on the Persian government, by means of an ultimatum, to declare within 2 hours whether it intended to take part with Russia against Turkey. The same letters announce that the Shah of Persia is said to have replied to this arrogant ultimatum by giving orders to 50,000 men to proceed to the Turco-Persian frontiers, under the command in chief of Mehemet Kahn, his minister of war. The Shah is said to intend to demand from Russia the restitution of the provinces which have been taken from him at different periods. If this news be confirmed, it may be considered very favorable to Turkey and her allies.

ATTITUDE OF AUSTRIA. It is stated on good authority here that Russia ecently notified Prussia that she had determined to address an ultimatum to Austria, calling upon her to explain her conduct, and summoning her, rather peremptorily, to declare herself either for or against, out, at all events, to declare herself. The Prussian Minister replied that the Emperor of Russia need not give himself any trouble of addressing an timatum to Austria, as he (the Persian) well new and could not tell beforehand the nature of he answer that would be given. Nearly at the ame time Austria informed Prussia that she also was to address an ultimatum to Russia, calling upon her to account for her intrigues and her revolutionary attempts in the States of neighboring soveriegns, and particularly Monte-negro, when she Austria) was determined to put down by force the evolt. She also reproaches Russia with her conduct in the Principalities, and insists upon their evacuation. When eltimatums of such a kind are passing to and fro, we may soon expect something

CONSTERNATION AT ST. PETERSBURG. A letter from the Baltic of the 26th ult., in the Moniteur, says: The thaw of the Neva is expected in two days. Many persons are leaving for the interior of the country. The departure of the Emperor foa Peterhoff, where the court was to have gone on the 27th, is adjourned. THE PRONUNCIATION OF THE ITAL THE PRONUNCIATION OF THE ITALIAN LANGUAGE.—That high appreciation which the young ladies of Nashville will no doubt have of the many beautiful vocal pieces to be found in the operas which will be represented in this city, will create a desire on their part to repeat them, and as the effect would be greatly added to, if they were able to pronounce correctly and with proper emphasis the Italian Language, which pronunciation not one of their a usical professors could impart, their attention is called to the following:

Signor Viglieti, an Italian by birth, and possessed of a pure pronunciation, offers to instruct the young indies in the art of pronouncing perfectly, which is so indispensably necessary to a language so full of sweetness and harmony, and proposes to accomplish his task in a very short time.—

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Liver Complaint .- The only remedy ever offered to the public that has never failed to cure, when directions are followed is M'Lane's Liver Pill. It has been several years before the public, and has been introduced in all sections of the Union. Where it has been used it has had the most triumphant success, and has actually driven out of use all other medicines. It has been tried under all the different phases of Repatis, and has been found equally ef- Hyte."

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'LANE's CREARRATED LIVER PILLS, and take none else. There are other Pills, purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public, Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills, also his Celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stor s in the United States and Canada. Dr. Morse's Invigorating Elixir or Cordial. If it is inquired how this great restorative is accomplishing such extraordinary cures, we can only reply that in the Arnbian herb that forms its cardinal ingredient, have been blended, by the Omnipotent Physician, a large amount and greater varieties of curative proporties than had heretofore been supposed to exist in an hundred different articles of the pharmacoposa. A whole medicine chest of remedies, so to speak, seem to have been combined in this herb; and in the Elixir or Cordial we have their concentrated essence. It is the effect however, not the cause, with which we have to deal in the practical application of the medicine. The victims of dyspepsia are cured, the nervs are relieved, the half paralyzed resume their activity, the sufferers from head ache are tormented no more, the weak become vigorous, the tine of jaundice leaves the complexion of the billous, the depressed in spirits become bouyant, the sick in almost every condition of disease derives immediate benefit from the use of Dr. Morse's Invigorating Elixir or Cordial . These facts, supported by irrefragable proof, are presented to the attention of invalids, who can verify them by a single bottle of the medicine. This Cordial is put up, highly concentrated, in pint bottles. Price three dollars per bottle, two for five dollars, six for twelve dollars. C. H. RING, Proprietor, 192 Broadway, New York. R. R. R.-Five Complaints raging in one system, cured by R. R. R. Remedies, in twenty-two days-Rheumatism, Liver Complaint, Neuralgia, Fever Sores, Chills and Fever Mr. G., a gentleman lately returned from a western tour, was afflicted with each of the above complaints at the same time. He commenced the use of the K. R. R. Remedies on the 24th June. For Rheumatism he used Radway's Ready Relief-he used it externally. In less than ten min utes after the first application he was free from pain; he could use his limbs as free as ever. For Neuralgia he used the Ready Reilef, internally and externally. It instantly allayed the most violent irritations and spasms; it imparted strength and vitality to his nerves. He has not been trouble since the tenth day with any neuralgia pains. Chills and timparted heat, health and strength to the cold and chilly blood, and neutralized the poisonous missma of ague. Liv er Complaint-Radway's Regulators-to regulate the organs of the system and to give tene and energy to the liver; to ensure a pleasant and hearty digestion and a regular action of the bowels; to prevent costiveness, indigestion, &c .- He was entirely cured of this compinint by the first of July .-Fever Sores-Hetook the Renovating Resolvent-he had nipeteen very large ones. The Resolvent cleansed and pu rided his blood, made it pure and rich, and resolved away from the body all diseased and poisonous deposits and irritating humors. On the 16th July he called at the H. R. R. office and represented himself cured. His Rheumatism chills and fevers, neuralgia, and fever sores, had all been cured and removed by the R. R. R. Remedies in twentytwo days.

A WARNING. Delay not; harbor not in your mind that sentence of foots' philosophy, that a disease will get well of itself, or that you can cure it with certain medicines for a few dollars.

Beware how you tamper with your general welfare. Ye wild and vicious youths, why will ye persist in dosing with the filthy nausacting compounds daily proffered, thereby impairing your appetite and digestion and destroying you mentally as well as physically, when you can be cared with a few doses of pleasant medicines?

Ye rakes of every age and condition, why will ye saffe and reptne and drag out a miscrable existence, unfitted for the enjoyment and even ordinary pursuits of life! You who are thus annoyed and wish to be restored to health and vigor by a treatment at once pleasant and effectual, should consult Dr. MORRIS. His success in chronic diseases has been greater than that of any other physician of his day. Many who have been for years afflicted with disease or consequences resulting from excess have been restored health and vigor under his really scientific treatment. Should a personal interview be objectionable, state your disease in writting—enclose five datars—address Dr. W. H. MORRIS, through the Post-Office, Nashville, Tenn, and a package of medicines, securely put up, will be seat privately and with dispatch, full directions therewith, and vately and with dispatch, full directions therewith, and no questions usied.

Persons living at a distance, and afflicted with Scrafule, Old Ulcers, Tetter Cancers, Piles, Fistula in Ano, Grasse Strictures, Glosts, or any disease whatever of an aggravated or malignant charter, can be cured at home by consult, ng Dr. Mosaus, by letter, post paid, enclosing a fee.

FAMILY. By B. P. SHILLABUR, of the Boston Post. "I did fynde her a woman of manye worden, yet of a very pleasante fancie withal, and havinge much good conselle." -Boot. Digg his Works: Lib. csl, Art-"Misrrene Unia fine paper and profusely illustrated.

Compliment to Mrs. Parington from a high source.

Dr. O. W. Holmes in the course of his closing lecture in New York, on Modern English Poets, on Friday evening, referring to Hood said. "There is plenty of wit in the poetry of our country, but the preparing of wit is so purely in-tellectual a process, that it can be ordered beforehand, like ice-cream. Much, if not all of Hood's funds is of this kind. Humor is infinitely rarer than wit. I think there has been very little of it since Burns. Humor must have feeling in it wit needs none. Voltage was a wit, but Mrs. Partington's conversation with the omnibus driver has more fee ing and humor than ever he uttered. As laughing and weeping are closely allied, so pathos and humor are akin.

The following is what the Doctor alludes to:— The following is what the books are a sufficient with the book square omnibus, shaking hands with Burbank, in the book square omnibus, as he held out his five dexter digits towards her. "Farama'am." said he, in reply to her inquiry. "Well, I'm shure the same as he held out his five dexter digits towards her. "Farama am," said he, in reply to her inquiry. "Well, I'm shure I'm glad of it, and how are the folks at home?" "Farama am," continued he, still extending his hand. The passengers were interested. "How do you like Boston?" screamed she, as the omnibus ratifed over the stones, "Farama am," shoulded he, without drawing back his hand: "I want you to pay me for your ride." "Oh," murmared she, "I thought it was some one that knowed me," and rummaged down in the bottom of her ridicule for a ticket, finding at last live cupper cents tied up in the corner of her handkerchies—the "last war" handkerchief, with the stars and stripes involved in it, and the action of the Constitution and Guerriere stamped upon it. But the smile she had given him at first was not withdrawn—there was no allowance made for mistakes at the counter—and he went out with a lighter heart and a heavier pocket to each t'other coach.

[From Harper's Magazine.]

"Mrs Partington" is an original caeation; and the trueone can be detected from her numerous imitators in a moment. The Rev. Sydney Smith first introduced this notable lady to the public, but the Boston Post is the only journal which records her original sayings and doings, which are only excelled—if indeed they are excelled at all—by Mrs.
Lavinia Ramsbottom, the illustrious protege of the witty Theodore Hook. Here are two of her late "utterances" which are quite as good in their way as onything in Madame Ramsbottom's letters from Rome or Paris:
"Diseases is very various—very. The Doctor tells mo that poor old Mrs. Have has get two buckles upon her lungs! It's dreadful to think of—'is really. The diseases is so various! One day we hear of people's dying of 'hermitage of the lungs,' arother of brown creatures, here they tell us of the 'elementary canat' being out of order, and there about the 'ear of the throat,' here we hear of 'newrology in the head,' and there of an 'embargo' in the back. On one side of us we hear of a man retting killed by getting a piece of beef in his 'sarcofagus, and there ano her tills himself by diskivering his jocular vein." Things change so
